

It's now time to wake up,
and here we can stand together
against the race, against the faith,
against the blade of human hate.

Starting now compassion
for anybody who needs it.
The mankind is on the verge of a change.
Stop shooting, it's time to pray.

You wanna love, I will give you it.
Just take the hand of a man next to you
and pray together for the miracle now,
until you'll wake up one morning
and you will feel the peace around.
And you will think...
Life in a day.
Life in a day.

The sun is getting higher.
No more fear, no more mace upon my head.
Tears are just to remember,
stop shooting it's time to say.

Oh, it's just too much waiting alone
and I don't want you to fall,
you just have to be called
from the peace of your mind.
You're not waiting alone.

You wanna love, I will give you it.
Just take the hand of a man next to you
and pray together for the miracle now.
Just hold your hands
and everything will be fine.
